

Helping a manufacturer adapt to new regulations

Background

A major manufacturer needed to prepare for new regulations that were going to have a significant impact on the company's business. The Legal Department turned to PLS to ensure full compliance with the new laws when they went into effect.

Solution

Interviewing more than 40 internal and field employees, PLS used a gap analysis process to establish the company's practices with regard to the laws. Next, PLS worked with the legal team to understand what compliance to the new regulations would look like. From there, PLS calculated the gap and took immediate action to meet the looming deadline.

The scope of complying to the new regulation was so great that PLS actually led the creation of a compliance department, while generating processes and tools ~ including extensive training ~ to avoid penalties and ensure the project's long-term success.

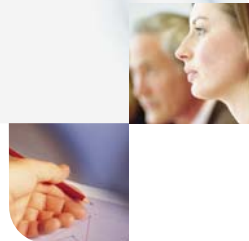

Results

When the laws went into effect, the company was fully prepared for the regulatory changes. To date, it remains in full compliance.
